DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: The specification fails to provide support for a computer readable medium.
2. For purposes of examination, the computer readable medium claims have been treated as incorporating storage media. Applicant did not receive a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 101 for non-statutory subject matter because Applicant did not redefine computer readable media to encompass signals or other transmission media.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 31-45 are allowed.
4. As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).
5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
6. In regard to claim 45, Applicant claims a system with means plus function. Applicant did not define the system in the specification as being embodied solely as software. Figures 1 and 2 both illustrate the presence of servers, which shows that hardware must be included for the system to function. Any software in the system must be embodied on a computer or server in order for the system to function. The system cannot function as software alone. No rejection under 35 U.S.C. 101 was issued because Applicant failed to provide intent within the specification to claim software per se, or encompass transmission media.
7. No prior art was located in the search dealing with application verb response times. Applicant presented the only art that taught application verbs in the affidavit of Venkatesh Iyer. The internet draft cited by Mr. Iyer did not deal with the calculation of response times for application verbs.

Art Unit: 2145

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
